I have been in business for 26 years. Through the years I have had many different companies supply my studio with our outfits for the annual Christmas parade. I had a hard time staying with one company or another. I just never seemed completely satisfied.

In 2002 I decided that I yet again needed to find a new company to do my work. I went to Diamond Graphics and met Kenna. She is a very nice woman who was willing to work with me to make sure that I was satisfied with everything I ordered.

In the past, I would just place an order once a year for crew sweatshirts, nylon pants and matching jackets. After meeting Kenna, I decided to try some other items that I thought my students might be interested in. Now, I order more than once a year because the students always want something else, whether it is pants, hoodies, fitted t-shirts, bags or just about anything you can think of.

Kenna has always been more than helpful in thinking of new ways to get my name out into the public. I also, now have Diamond Graphics make banners and any other little thing that I might need as well as the clothing.

It is a great convenience that I can now go to one place and get practically anything that I might need for my business. I am always satisfied with the consistent quality of work that Diamond Graphics provides. I would highly recommend her to anyone.
